See below from Chairman Lee:

The bridge will be operational for pedestrians on Opening Day. My understanding is that they have until August 31 to finish up elements such as landscapes and hardscapes.

The cost for construction of the bridge is $10,085,408

It is another example of a successful public private partnership in Cobb County.

Thanks Kelli. But I think it is an appropriate question for Tim to answer. He has said: The bridge won't be ready until September; it won't be ready for the first season; it will be ready by opening day; and now we have an agenda item that says August.

I think the question is appropriate for him, and the story will say he was asked.

Thanks again,

DK

I am forwarding your question to Sheri Kell so she can coordinate with the transportation team to get an answer for your question.

I see that the Braves bridge project is now scheduled for completion by Aug. 31. Will pedestrians be able to use the bridge by the first pitch? If not, what is the plan?
